Our values and purpose

Our culture is underpinned by four core values which inform how we work with our clients and each other.

On behalf of the Auditor-General, we provide insights to over 600 state and local government clients on how to deliver better public services for Queenslanders.

As the state's independent auditor, we are completely unique. We are vital to Queensland's integrity system of government, giving parliament and the public trusted assurance.

Innovation, teamwork and relationships are at the heart of what we do. We use some of the most contemporary practices and tools in today's professional services industry to:

- deliver high quality audit services
- give the public sector insights on their performance, risks and financial management
- report to parliament on the results of our work
- investigate financial waste and mismanagement
- share best practice across our client base and industry.

The public sector operating environment is diverse and constantly evolving, meaning we work throughout Queensland across a wide range of services from health, education, financial services, local government, tourism, justice and many more.

Our workforce

Our people are our most valuable resource and are proud to be part of our diverse, inclusive, and healthy workplace. Our people are key to achieving our vision of better public services and they are dedicated, engaged and highly skilled.

Our workforce is a mix of around 190 employees who are audit professionals, specialists and support team members. We also engage audit service providers to conduct some of our work, and they are an integral part of our business. We are proud to celebrate our diverse backgrounds.

QAO's Executive Management Group has shared responsibility for audit excellence, innovation and operational performance. Our operating model enables us to deliver our services as one team, with our Assistant Auditors-General overseeing our client services, quality and people. Our client and audit engagement is led by our Senior Directors.
